BRITISH OLYMPIC HORSEMEN IN TRAINING

With the jingle of harness and the clatter of hooves something of the atmosphere of pre-war days has returned to Aldershot, for the British Olympic horsemen have taken over the quarters of the old Cavalry Regiments. Britain's finest horses and horsemen have been under training preparing for the Olympic Games at Wembley and Aldershot. The war office has released seven serving officers for the 22 weeks training which started on March 8th, and has loaned stables, mess quarters and staff to make sure that Britain maintains her bloodstock prestige. A fine action picture shows Mr. H. M. Llewellyn on "Foxhunter" taking the double bar jump with plenty to spare.

Among the many guests attending were Mrs. Chas Hamilton, Provo, Mrs. Eva Noyes, Hollywood, Mr. and Mrs. Richard L. Noyes, Los Angeles;

By ELIZABETH KING

PRESIDENT OF BOARD OF TRADE 1907-1910

Louis Debenham King, the second son of Thomas O. and Dorcas Debenham King, was born in Collingston, Utah. In 1897 Louis D. was called on a mission to Philadelphia, Penn. He spent 27 months in this field of labor and had been home but a year when he was called to Canada on a six months M.I.A. mission, coming through Raymond in October 1901 and taking up residence in the spring of 1902. He was installed Superintendent of the Raymond ward Sunday school September 14, 1902, two days before his first child Louis R. was born. In October, 1906 the officers and teachers of the Sunday School surprised Superintendent King in his home and presented him with a red morocco bound book of Shakespeares works and on the fly-leaf it is interesting to note the following names: John F. Anderson Bishop, J. W. Evans, 1st H. C. Jacobs 2nd counselors, T. W. Harris, George P. Parker, George H. Higgs, John Powelson, Mabel Powelson, Alberta Jacobs, Wilson McCarty, Mary Smellie, Maud McCarty, Ann Brewerton, Lura Redd, Dossa Johnston, Mary Duke, Dora Davies, Bertha Fisher, Fanny Harris, Vina Nalder, Elsie Clark, Mary Hyde and Verena Skouson.

Out of the group but four still remain in Raymond: Fanny Harris (Walker), Elsie Clark (Jacques), Mary Hyde (Rodeback) and Louis D. King. In January 1907 Mr. King was made a member of the town council and in the fall of the year he was elected president of the Board of Trade. In an old "Raymond Rustler" edited by David H. Elton in 1907 we read the following:

PRESIDENT BOARD OF TRADE

Upon the Board of Trade devolves a work of great importance and grave responsibilities in connection with the civic officers and Agricultural Societies, we look to the Board of Trade to safeguard the local commercial interests and promote schemes for the welfare of the town and district. As a business man with business interests and business methods, resident King is well prepared and fully equipped for the work. He is thoroughly familiar with the needs of Raymond and understands her situation perfectly. Moreover he is a firm believer in publicity as his business' firm display of Printers Ink will indicate. Supported by strong willing workers there is no reason why the Board of Trade cannot accomplish the work for which its organization was perfected. Respected and esteemed by his fellows, sober intelligent and upright, optimistic for Sunny Southern Alberta and a hooster for Raymond, President Louis D. King stands prominently for a bigger and better and more progressive Raymond.

When the Opera House was built in 1909 Mr. King was elected vice president and in 1912 he was made its manager, a position he held for several years. In a Raymond paper of March 19, 1929 edited by "Pete" Peterson we read:

HIGHLY COMMENDS RETIRING MANAGER

Dear Mr. Editor:
Since Mr. L. D. King has resigned as Manager of the Raymond Opera House Company please permit me as resident in behalf of the Board of directors and the shareholders of the company our sincere appreciation for the long and splendid service rendered by him in this position.

When Mr. King accepted the management of the company in 1912 there was a debt of about $2700. hanging over it. Through his wise and judicious handling of the financial affairs of the company this debt was soon liquidated and a nice credit balance established and maintained.

But notwithstanding his unqualified success in conducting the finances of the company he was more successful in a better way, yes, in a more enduring way. In his management of the dances and entertainments and in the selection of high class performances for the house. The department of our young people is a tribute of no small measure to the work done by Mr. King and the effect of his influence for the moral and spiritual uplift of our boys and girls will be an everlasting benefit to them and will stand as an eternal monument to his faithful and efficient service.

May the Lord compensate him for the many sacrifices made. He served freely and received neither praise nor pelf.

J. W. Evans.

Mr. King was also active in Athletics. He was elected president of the Raymond Athletic association in 1922.

When the Raymond ward was divided in 1912 J. W. Evans was sustained bishop with Louis D. King as first and J. H. Walker as second counselors. That same year he was appointed post master, a position he held until May 1st, 1948. He, with 80 other postmasters were presented with a merit badge for their long and faithful service as postmasters.

Mr. King, in connection with his son Shirley owns and operates King Motors garage and Texaco Service Station. From the Raymond Recorder of May 1946 edited by S.J. Weaver we quote the following: "Last week L. D. King, well known business man in Raymond since 1902 was presented with a bronze plaque bearing the engraving: 'Presented to L. D. King in appreciation of twenty five years association with the Ford Motor Company of Canada Ltd., 1921 to 1946 and signed by W. R. Campbell. The presentation was made by the Alberta manager of the company and at the same time L.D. was presented with a Longines wrist watch with the above engraving on the back. L. D. sold his first Ford car in 1918 when he and George Green were in the garage business. In 1921 L. D. bought out his partners share and since that time has carried the Ford banner in the Raymond district.

In October, 1946 Douglas B. Greig of Windsor Ontario president of the Ford Motor Company of Canada called upon Mr. King at King Motors and congratulated him upon attaining twenty five years as a dealer of the company in this district."

Four sons and four daughters were born to Mr. and Mrs. L. D. King: Louis R. of Seattle, Harold T. Davidson; Mrs. O. H. Hill, Bremerton Wash.; Shirley W., Raymond; Mrs. F.W. Mullett, Cedar City, Utah; Mrs. N. W. Wing, American Fork; Donald, (died in infancy) Mrs. Wm. McNew, Raymond.

IF TROUBLE COMES

A veteran observer can detect now behind the scenes in this nation's capital a tense, loaded atmosphere resulting from current exciting developments in the international sphere and the man-in-the-street across this country might to know that all-important diplomatic discussions, particularly between Washington and Ottawa are going on in such a way as to hint, though not always publicized, not only about regional defence pacts in case of war but about extension of armed co-operation between United States, Canada and the Western European countries.

While these are supposed to be polite, diplomatic discussions on United States-Canadian associations with Western European security arrangements, yet exciting activities in Ottawa and Washington involving the Canadian Ambassador in the US capital as well as top officials of the Canadian External Affairs Department here, suggest the importance of the whole situation now and the importance of these talks.

Furthermore, for the man in the street unaccustomed to diplomatic manners of such dealings it may not mean as much as to a veteran observer along Parliament Hill. However, he can be assured, significantly enough, that there is no longer any great effort being made along Parliament Hill to conceal the purpose of these discussions or exchange of views either about United States-Canadian co-operation on defence on a regional basis in this hemisphere or their association with the Western European security arrangements. Everything is more and more in the open now, with this being extremely important.

In fact, External Affairs Minister St. Laurent has gone on record here with a declaration which hints of things to come when he said that "there is no paper agreement but we are potential allies if trouble comes", openly stating that the world is not satisfied with the "helpless, frustrated and hemmed in Security Council which is prevented from taking actions required for security and that "Canada has a working agreement with the United States" so that "a threat to one of us is a threat to the hemisphere which neither will pass by."

In addition Defence Minister Claxton has made a blunt statement here that "the United States and Canada have a common interest and a common defence and we can solve our problems and achieve our ends better together than we can alone", emphasizing at the same time that "our common interest is that of the preservation of our freedom and the right to our own way of life on this continent without interference from any nation". It should not be difficult to guess what both spokesmen for the Canadian Government meant and whom they were suggesting as possible enemies "if trouble comes". And Canada and her allies will be ready "if trouble comes" is the interpretation here in this capital about the present discussion on the diplomatic, even if not on the governmental level.

DON'T EXPECT TOO MUCH
 It is no longer any secret that taxpayers across this country are dreaming about some sensational cuts in the Canadian Government's tax bills because the Government has been writing down huge surpluses now and still not reducing the taxes as generally anticipated in pre-war days when such surpluses or nearly such surpluses existed. Then again, report after report has been circulating that the Government in Ottawa is probably saving that big tax cut for an "election year" when it would prove a vote-catching device to spring an appeal to the people at the same time as sensational tax cuts.

However, this may turn out to be family are holidaying in Idaho and really a dream for many taxpayers.

Dorothy Davies, Vancouver actress who will be heard in a leading part in this week's broadcast of the CBC drama series Behold This Land, on Sunday, July 11, at 8:00 p.m. MDT on the Trans-Canada network. The second of a group of dramas by the Canadian writer Yves Thériault, the play is called The Woman From the South.

depending too much upon these reports or interpretations of policy, judging from observations "on the spot" in this capital. More and more social security measures are in the making in Canada, it is stressed in well-informed quarters here, so that high tax levels are likely to accompany such plans. Already the government here has to face large sums in payment for old age pensions, for children's under the broad Veterans Charter, for family allowances which cost this year alone $257 millions for a national health program etc. In fact the Canadian government is planning social security measures which will cost more than has been spent ever before in history and more are coming so that a high tax level is bound to prevail on a higher position than generally considered likely in pre-war days when surpluses were recorded on a proportional basis, in face of reports about sensational tax cuts being kept ready for "election year", according to observations here.

SAID IN THE CAPITAL

"I shall still remain in the office of Prime Minister", said Premier King, making clear the difference between leadership of a party and leadership of a government, with the former post being given to him by the party but the latter by the Crown, suggesting that it might be "two or three months" after the party convention here before he would be giving up the post of Prime Minister.

"We're on the march" declared CCF leader M. J. Coldwell at a "Victory Banquet" here celebrating recent by-election victories of his party.

"Canada is not striving to become a self-sufficient nation shutting off the rest of the world from her markets" stressed Mines and Resources Minister James McKinnon in an address in this capital.

"As a soldier I would welcome more expenditures on the Air Force" stated Maj. Gen. G. R. Pearkes, MP V.C., discussing expenditures by Canada on her forces.

"In every year of the last 68 years we have had an unfavorable balance of trade with the United States and the total unfavorable balance or loss on our American trade in 30 years has been over $16 billion", said Hon. John Bracken.

 For those who prefer a repellent spray, with a quick knock-down kill of all flies it kills, your Imperial Oil Agent offers the tried-and-proved Stanco Livestock Spray. No spray repels flies more effectively, or knocks them down faster.

THIS YEAR, you can rid your livestock and your stables, hog pens and poultry houses of flies, more completely than ever before. Imperial D D T Concentrate is the answer to your prayer, as far as flies are concerned.

It's economical to use, too. For power spraying or dipping, you mix only 1 part concentrate to 125 parts water (which is equal to about 2½ tablespoons in a gallon). For hand spraying, you double the strength. For walls and ceilings, a gallon of concentrate makes 5 gallons of spray.

As it dries, it leaves a residue of D D T on the animals' hair, or on walls and ceilings, which is sure death to every fly that lights on it. They pick it up on their feet and it kills by paralysis.

Imperial D D T Concentrate is the most up-to-the-minute fly killer on the market. You can depend on it. See your Imperial Oil Agent.

ROAD-SENSE

If You Value Your Life

NEVER-NEVER-NEVER TRY TO BEAT A TRAIN TO A CROSSING. We want GOOD ROADS—and the government is to be commended for the extensive road building programme it has announced for 1949—but we want SAFE ROADS, too. Safety depends on YOUR vigilance and that of every driver.

Increased Insurance Coverage for A.M.A. Members

Your membership in the A.M.A. gives you Automobile Accident Insurance coverage of $1,500, increasing 10% annually to a maximum of $3,000 instead of $2,250 as formerly. The disability indemnity has been raised from $15 to $25 a week for thirty days. This is just one of the many benefits of membership in the A.M.A. Membership costs only $10 for 12 months—less than a dollar a month.

The government has already given consideration to the inauguration of a system of Driver Training and Testing. All who are interested in reducing the toll of death and injury on our roads will endorse such a plan, and will join with the A.M.A. in urging its speedy adoption.

WINTER WHEAT

This season is proving particularly a favorable one for winter wheat in localities adapted to this crop where practically no winter killing occurred during the past winter in the varieties that are considered the most winter hardy.

The previous winter had proved one of the worst for winter wheat as many fields were lost from winter killing. It was unfortunate that those losses discouraged many farmers from seeding winter wheat last fall. Those who did seed it have found it a great advantage during this late wet spring to have at least a portion of their seeding operations disposed of and also to have now a crop of winter wheat which promises to definitely outyield their spring wheat.

Chemical weed killers have now been developed to the point where they are giving good satisfaction on the weeds which are generally most troublesome in winter wheat, particularly tumbling mustard and stink weed. The cost is not prohibitive and many farmers who have sprayed their fields this season look upon this method of weed control as a great advantage in winter wheat production. This is in agreement with experiments at the Experimental Station, Lethbridge.

In certain fall seasons grasshoppers prove destructive to winter wheat especially to crops sown before the middle of September. Investigators at the Dominion Entomological Laboratory, Lethbridge stated that results obtained to date indicate that grasshoppers can be kept well under control by spraying the fields with Chlordane, using the type of spraying machine commonly used for spraying weeds. This treatment is fairly expensive but by no means excessive on fields where grasshoppers are expected to be numerous. Spraying the marginal strips of the field is frequently sufficient. More information is required regarding the form of grasshopper control, but it has appeared quite promising to date.
